NET CHANGES ARE TRIVIAL

Movement of Stock Prices for Day Inconclusive.

LOSS ES PRE DOMINATE

But Market Makes Quite General Advance in Face of Early Unfavorable Developments--Money Continues Easy-Bonds Strong.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The movement of prices of stocks to-day was again inconclusive, the net changes being for the most part trivial. Losses predominated at the end of the day, but the market had quite generally advanced in face of the early unfavorable developments. The suspension of an Allegheny bank growing out of the failure yesterday of the Federal National Bank, of Pittsburg, caused scarcely a ripple in the market, although reports showed the continued necessity of precautionary measures at Pittsburg, such as refraining from trading in bank stocks, and the provision of a two million dollar safety fund amongst the bank. London also affected this market unfavorably, owing to a fresh outbreak of fears of war between Russia and Japan. The labor disputes on the Manhattan and Pennsylvania Railroad system were under second to be much regarded in the trading. Dissatisfaction was expressed with the conditions in the coal trade of steam sizes of anthractte and the active competition thereby produced with the large production of bituminous coal for silpping to the seatourd. In a semi-demoralized condition, and ut the same time the assert early of the seatourd. In a semi-demoralized condition, and ut the same time the assert early of the prominent groups, the coalers not excepted, with finds accumulating in reserved and of the prominent groups, the coalers not excepted. With funds accumulating in reserves and a growing ease in the money market, there is no longer an expectation that high interest rates will be permanent, and on this, assumption high grade bonds are attractive at the prevention that high interest rates will be permanent, and on this assumption high grade bonds are attractive at the prevention that high interest rates will be permanent, and on this assumption high grade bonds are attractive at the prevention that high interest rates will be permanent, and on this assumption high grade bonds are attractive at the prevention that high interest rates will be permanent and of the coul

PETER TURNEY DEAD AFTER LONG LIFE

Was Once Governor of Tennessee and Was Responsible for Unique Incident

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) (special to The Times-Disputen.)
CHATTANOOGA, TENN., Oct. 2.—At Winchester this afternoon there was held the funeral of ex-Governor Peter Turney, a man who was responsible for one of the most unique incidents of secession

a man who was responsible for one of the most unique incidents of secession times.

Ex-Governor Turney was the son of Hopkins L. Turney, a member of the United States Senate from Tennessee and one of the strongest opponents of abolition and kindred movements. Peter Turney was an elector on the Breckinglest tecket in 1859, and on receiving news of the election of Abraham Lincoln, he was the first man in Tennessee to advocate secession in a public speech. On February 9, 1861, a convention met at Nashville to consider an ordinance of secession, and Turney ledy the delectating Tennessee's leaving the Union. However, the resolution was defeated at that time and Turney, on returning to Franklin county, called the citizens together in mass-meeting and under his leadership, a resolution was passed by which Franklin county alone seceded from the United States and from the State of Tennessee as well, attaching liself to Alabama, which was at the time in the Southern Confederacy. Governor Turney thereupon raised the first Confederate regiment from Tennessee, before the State had seceeded, and it became a part of the Confederate army through Alabama. The body was known by the name of "Turney's Tennessee" to distinguish it from the troops raised by the State, and participated in the battle under Lee. At the time of the surrender there were 39 men living out of the original body of 1,118.

Governor Turney was first elected to the gubernatorial chair in 1892. He was opposed in 1804 by H. Clay Evans, formerly Commissioner of Pensions and now consul-general at London. The returns showed Evans to be the winner by a plurality of 748, but a contest arose, equalled only in interest by the Gobel-Taylor controversy, which resulted in the seating of Turney. He was seventy-six years old at the time of his death.

LEWIS NIXON TESTIFIES

Continues His Evidence Before Examiner of United States Shipbuilding Company-He Warned Associates of Impending Disaster.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Lewis Nixon occupied the witness chair again today at the hearing before an examiner of the United States Shipbuilding Company, and gave much valuable testimony covering the finances and general affairs of the corporation. He testified that he had opposed the Sheldon reorganization urged that the stock be assessed in order to raise the amount necessary to save the commission from default and bankruptey. His plan of assessment opposed by Charles M. Schwab, holder at that time of $20,000,000 of the stock, who, according to Mr. Nixon, declared that the stockholders would not pay the

Mr. Schwab, so Mr. Nixon swore, declined to put up any more unless the Bethlehem bonds were given preference as a lien upon the shipbuilding plants to the first mortgage bonds,

Wide Discrepancy.

Mide Discrepancy.

All, Nixon's testimony also developed the fact that there was a wide discrepancy as to estimated carnings in letters written by Treasurer Gary to members of the reorganization committee and Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the bondholders, asked if it did not show that there had been an attempt to minimize the value of the Schipyards and magnify the value of the Bethiehem plant, but the witness would not say so.

Much time was taken up with an unsuccessful effort to get at the history of a mysterious check for $200,000 found at the Trust Company of the republic, It was drawn to "Lowis Nixon or ourselves," on the same day the checks were made out for the payment of the cash ancy as to estimated earnings in letters written by Treasurer Gary to members of the reorganization committee and Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the bondholders, asked if it did not show that there had been an attempt to minimize the value of the shipyards and magnify the value of the Bethiehem plant, but the witness would not say so. Much time was taken up with an unsuccessful effort to get at the history of a mysterious check for $250,000 found at the Trust Company of the acquibile, It was drawn to "Lowis Nixon or ourselves," on the same day the checks were made out for the payment of the cash given to the vendors for their plants and property. Mr. Nixon swore that he had never seen the check before and that he knew nothing of its history, and the destination of the amount of money for which it was drawn, and the sides disclaimed knowledge of its history and the destination of the amount of money for which it was drawn, and the only explanation offered from any source was that it had been made out by mistake and had simply been put through the banks by the Trust Company of the Republic. The effort to get the history of the check will be renewed later in the hearing.

Warned of Disaster.

Warned of Disaster.

Mr. Nixon testified that he knew as early as last April that unless the combination could got some money from the Bethlehem property or elsewhere, it must fail, and warned his associates on the directorate that they must husband resources. It was brought out on cross-examination that the share of promotion profits set aside for Mr. Schwab, of which, Mr. Nixon told yesterday, has never been paid. None of the commitments on account of promotion were paid, so Mr. Nixon testified.

The hearing will go on to-morrow afternoon and at the close, will probably be adjourned for ten days on account of engagement of counsel. This adjournment will probably be resulted to the testimony of Messrs. Schwab and Pam until some time week after next.
